TUESDAY MORNING. MARCH 23, 1875.

U. S. SENATE-EXTRA SESSION. In the Senate on the 13th, Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the Pinchback resolution so as to read that he "be not admitted to a seat in the Senate." After speeches by Messrs. Thurman and Morton, Senator Whyte, of Maryland, made an able and elaborate argument against the admission of Pinchback.

The discussion of the resolution for the admission of Pinchback was continued on the

On Tuesday the Pinchbach case was discussed by Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, who, though a pronounced republican, made a most effective and logical argument against the admission of Pinchback. One of the Senators characterized it as a "democratic speech by a republican." Senators Howe and Logan advocated Pinehback's claims, after which Mr. Morton closed the debate in earnest advocacy of the same. A motion was then made and carried to postpone the further consideration of the matter until next December. This unexpected result, as an exchange says, was reached through an unmanly surrender to mere party gag-and to a fancifal bugaboo conjured by Pinchback, to the effect that if he were refused a seat in the Senate a vacancy would thereby be declared, and the present Legislature of Louisiana would elect a conservative Senator.

On Wednesday, the Hawaiian treaty was considered in executive session, and a resolution was adopted authorizing the committee on reorganization of the several branches of civil service to sit during the recess and to send for persons and papers.

On Thursday, a resolution that the Senate adjourn sine die on Saturday was laid over. and a resolution adopted authorizing the committee on contingent expenses to sit during

A large meeting of the colored people of Gordonsville (Va.) and vicinity was held on Friday night, the 12th inst., to take into consideration the "Civil Rights bill"-The meeting was addressed by two colored ministers in very conciliatory speeches, which were enthusiastically applauded by the assemblage. The whites were invited to express their views on the Civil Rights bill. Elder Barnett gave the colored people excellent advice, and told the whites present that the negroes did not contemplate intruding themselves where they were not wanted, but desired to live in peace. The editor of the Gordonsville Gazette made a short speech in reply, commending them for the stand they had taken. The utmost order and good feeling prevailed

AT At a meeting held is Staupton, a few days ago, to consider the best means of promoting manufactures in that place, Judge Hugh W. Sheffey said "that the fundamental principle of public economy was that a community that doesn't make anything to sell cannot get rich, and one that borrows money and can't make enough to pay the interest on it must get poor. The lawyers and preachers and doctors and mechanics in a community are all valuable, but they don't make it rich from the mere fact of their being there."

made from an eagle's quiil dropped by an eagle in Virginia and presented to President Polk in 1845. Mr. Polk signed his first message to Congress with the pen made of this quill, the joint resolution of Congress for the admission of the State of Texas, the law to extend the lands of the United States over the State of Texas, the "reducing the duty on imports, and for other purposes," and the treaty of peace with Mexico, July 4, 1848

In view of the increased rate of postage on transient newspapers, and in order to afford the people in all parts of the country to become familiar with the new postage, the Postmaster General has determined to suspend the operation of the law in this particular until the first of April, when he will rigidly enforce it, and all newspapers will be retained if insufficiently prepaid.

All the signs, all the precedents, all the analogies of political history, says the New York Sun, point to the total overthrow of the Republican party in the election of next year. The people, says that paper, will rejoice in the triumph over fraud, corruption. defiance of law, and contempt for the Constitution, no matter who may lead the attacking column.

The Presbytery of the Chesapeake will meet in Warrenton, Va., on the .31st of this month. This is the regular spring meeting of that body. In addition to other matters, the Presbytery will ordain and instal Mr. J. A. Scott, who has been supplying the Warrenton Church for the past ten months.

The New York Tribune is of the opinion that so far as newspaper sentiment is concerned, Hon. C. M. Kerr, of Indiana, has the best chance of being the Speaker of the next House of Representatives, whilst other papers indicate the Hon. Samuel J. Randall. of Pennsylvania, as the coming man.

we clip the following item : At a meeting of the bar of Charleston, held last Saturday night week, it was resolved to make a last effort to save the Capital from being removed from that place, and their plan is to get out an injunction. In accordance with this resolve, Judge Ferguson, W. A. Quarrier and E. W. Wilson, were appointed committee to prepare and take charge of the ease. The application for an injunction will be made before Judge Smith, of the Kanawha circuit, or Judge Ward, of the Cabell circuit, either of whom will, of course, grant an inunction. The object of the Charleston peo ple will be to delay the matter as long as possible, so as to prevent the matter from being in time to be presented before the Court of Appeals, which meets here in June next, or at the August term of the court which is held at Charlestown. If they were successful in this game, the legislature would have to meet again in Charleston next November, and they would make a tremendous effort to have the removal-bill repealed. The Charleston Courier closes an article on the capital question, as follows:

in building a Capitol. They don't seem disposed to be precipitate about it, and we don't blame them. The agitation of the Capital question has but just commenced. It will not be suspended for a single hour after the Legislature shall convene. Our people propose to relocate it at Charleston, if they can; they offer this as the promptest and best mode for redressing a gross and unmerited outrage.-Failing this, they want a permanent location

SHOCKING MURDER.-A correspondent addressing the Rockingham Register, from Roadside, in East Rockingham, under date of March 15, gives the following particulars of a shocking murder committed near that and the discussion will be up till they get it

"Mr. David G. Lawson, residing near Roadside, Rockingham county, Va., was killed this evening at about 4 o'clock. He was down at the store owned by E Q. Stanford this evening in his wagon with two horses, and on his way home after leaving the pike a few hundred yards, was supposed to have been killed by being shot from his horse. Two other men who had been with Mr L. had left him and taken another road; but they heard the report of a gun, and going to where it was found Mr. Lawson thrown from his horse! They then sent for a doctor and Magistrate who came and examined Mr. Lawson. I was there. The doctor said he was shot in the back. There were three holes, all of which were near together, on the right of his breast. Two balls went through him and one was found in his shirt. It seems as if no one knows who committed this deed. Mr. Lawson was an intelligent, hard-working man, about 35 years of age. He leaves t widow and several small children."

WASHINGTON CEMETERY -The Legislature of West Virginia, just adjourned, passed a Bill appropriating $500 to bury the Confederate dead in Washington Cemetery .-This appropriation, like the one of same amount made by the Legislature of Virginia a year ago, was, owing to the condition of the State Treasury, necessarily small, but it indicates the proper feeling of the Legislature and is most creditable to it. The Bill, voted for alike by both Democrats and Republicans was passed by a handsome majority, notwithstanding many other appropriations, with large lobby influence, failed or were defeated. To Dr. I. S. Tanner from Shepherdstown, a member of the House of Delegates, belongs the chief credit for this appropriation. He introduced the Bill, and notwithstanding the fact that owing to the time occupied by the Senatorial contest and the removal of the Capital, very few bills were passed, by his zeal and determination, he kept this one before the Legislature and secured its passage.

Hagerstown Mail. BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE INSANE ASYLUM.-The following named gentlemen have been appointed by the Board of Public Works, a Board of Directors for the Hostital for the Insane at Weston, the term of their office to commence on the first day of April. 1875, and to continue for one year, viz: Dr. M. F. Hullihen, of Ohio county; Ira J. Mo-Ginnis, Cabell county; Dr. S. G. Shaw, Mason county : James Withrow, Greenbrier county; J. W. Woffindin, Lewis county; Thomas Edwards, Lewis county; George Bennett, Lewis county; Alexander Monroe. Hampshire county : and R. C. Guston, Morgan county.

POISONED BY EATING PAINTED CANDY. -The Wheeling Register gives an account of the fatal poisoning of one child and the serious and possibly fatal illness of two others in the same family, near Bridgeport, from eating painted sugar apples. The occasion was the birthday festivities of one of the children of a German family named Bourst. The children ate freely of the painted candy with the results named. Analysis proved that the confection had been colored red and green in the semblance of real fruit by the use of arsenic and analine.

A STIEFF PIANO, which was on board the steamer Louisiana, sunk in Chesapeake Bay some time ago, has been recovered. Although the instrument had been lying beneath the water for several months, there had been very little damage. No strings were broken, and the case which is held together only by glue, was not injured in the least particular. This is probably the severest test ever applied to a piano, and sustains the claim of the makers, that it is superior to all others. See advertisement in this paper.

Governor Chamberlain, of South Carolina, has vetoed a bill "to liquidate the floating debt of the State" on the ground that a majority of the claims embraced in the bill are unpaid legeslative certificates which have been made to cover vast frauds, and which he holds do not constitute a valid obligation of the State. The Legislature, he declares, has not seconded his efforts for a policy of rigid economy, of which he gives examples. He will not consent to add a dollar to the taxation. which already oppresses the people, and which, in amount, is without precedent or justification.

A CURIOSITY .- A few days since a ewe owned by Mr. Peter Hanger, near Waynesboro, gave birth to two lambs, one as white as snow and the other black. The mother positively refuse to nourish the "colored member," which has to be fed by hand It is a case for the Eivil Rights

A Great Farmer in Georgia.

(From the Atlanta Herald.) Col. Lee Jordan owns and cultivates 20,000 acres, the original cost of which was $450, 000. He has 800 laborers, but is gradually adopting the tenant system. He raises twice as much corn as he needs. Six overseers superintend the plantations, and raise from 1. 100 to 2,000 bales of cotton. No fertilizers are used, as Col. Jordan believes them to be productive of caterpillars. Formerly he spent $12,000 per annum in guanos and phosphates, but now makes his own manure. -Dr. H. H. Coleman does the practice of the plantations on the following plan: It's assesses each head of a family $5 a year, whether he is sick or not; and thus, by taxing each man lightly, it is made burdensome on none. He is a good physician, and says that it is the healthiest country he ever saw. Only two adults died last year out of over a thousand souls. The preaching is done on the same plan. There is a negro preacher on a $3,000 salary, who rides about the country in his two-horse buggy, as fat as a bishop and as happy as a prince. He charges $3 a head for dealing out salvation the year around, and with a membership of 1,500, never gets less than $3,000 per annum out of the place. He is a Republican, but sticks to the Gospel with a ferver that only such a salary could inspire

CAPTURE OF AN ALLEGED BURGLAR .-On the night of February 19 last, the resideuce of Hon. L. Lowndes, a wealthy citizen of Clarksburg, West Virginia, was entered by burglars, and robbed of money and bonds smounting in the aggregate to over $10,000. The work was so neatly accomplished that it was almost impossible to get any clue to the perpetrators. As last suspicion fell on three r four men who left Clarksburg soon after the burglary, and descriptions were sent to all the principal cities of the country. On Thursday last, says the Cincinnati Commercial, de tectives Fram Mitchell and Fred Ampthauer. of that city, got on the track of a man named Arthur M. Page, who had been passing a few days there. He lived a fast life, spent his money very freely, and seemed to have plenty His appearance corresponded very closely with a description of one of the sus pected burglars, and the officers resolved to arrest him. They learned that he had gone to Dayton, and Tuesday they followed him He was found at a notorious bagnio, near the Fair-grounds, and, after a desperate resistence. taken into custody He was taken to Cin cinnati, where he was held to await advices from Clarksburg .- Wheeling Rey., Mar. 15

RENCOUNTRE - Richmond, March 15 .- A personal rencountre took place this morning between Mr. James Cowardin, editor of the Dispatch and Mr. A Fulkerson, member of the House of Delegates from Washington county. It appears that Mr. Cowardin, who in company with two gentleman was walking along Main street near the postoffice, was accosted by Mr. Fulkerson, with the remark 'This is Mr Cowardin I believe." when Mr. C. immediately answered, "Yes, sir, and you are the scoundrel Fulkerson; I know you. At this remark Mr. Fulkerson either struck at, or drew back to strike Mr. C. with a cane. when the latter closed with Fulkerson and seized him by the throat A short seuffle ensued, when friends interfered and separated them. The difficulty originated in remarks made by Mr. Fulkerson, in the House of Delegates, sometime since, in regard to the editorial columns of the Dispatch, to which Mr. Cowardin made some severe personal rejoinders. Much contempt is expressed at Mr. Fulkerson's conduct as he is a young and robust man, and Mr. Cowardin is over sixty years of age, and was entirely unprepared either with cane or weapons for the assault.

Later news announces the arrest of Mr. Fulkerson and Mr. James P. Cowardin, son of the senior Mr. Cowardin, on the charge of being about to engage in a duel or otherwise break the peace. They were both before a police justice, when, after investigation, they were placed under bonds in one thousand dollars each to keep the peace.

THE MCCORMICK TELESCOPE -The retracting telescope, ordered some four years ago of Messrs. Clark & Sons, of Boston, by Mr. Leander J. McCormick, of Chicago, of McCormick-reaper fame, and which is designed as a present to Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. is now nearly completed. It is to cost $38,000 in gold, and it is claimed will be the largest and most of feetive instrument of the kind ever constructed. The instrument has an aperture of twentysix inches, and the object-glass weighs 180 pounds; the glass with the tube in which it s inserted weighs about a ton; the whole weight may be roughly estimated at four or five tons, and it has a focan length of thirtythree feet. The objective alone, when completed, is worth $25,000, and is capable of a magnifying power of 2,000 diameters, though owing to the interference of the atmosphere nower of over 1.500 will seldom be used, but even this will increase the surface of the object viewed to $2,250 000 times its natural size. Mr McCormick is a native of Rock-

COUNTY RECORDS STOLEN .- Weston, March 15 -The office of the Clerk of the County Court of Lewis county, was entered last night by some person or persons, as yet unknown here, who committed sad havor among the official records. All of the indictments pending in this Court against criminal offenders; many important papers connected with civil causes, and some deeds to real estate property were stolen. The theft is an extraordinary one, and creates great excitement throughout the town and neighborhood. Up to this moment no clue has been discovered to the pernetrators.

RICHMOND, VA., March 17 .- The demon stration here to-day in bonor of St. Patrick was the grandest ever witnessed in Richmond. It consisted of an imposing parade of all the Catholic societies in the city and many citizens, and religious services at St Peter's Cathedral, Right Rev. Bishop Gibbons officiating, and an eloquent oration by Rev. J. J. Kain, bishop-elect of Wheeling, West Virginia. A salute of thirty-two guns was fired by the Richmond howitzers in honor of the thirty-two counties of Ireland.

Explosion of Powder Mills.

CLEVELAND, March 26 .- The Austin Powder Company's mills, located near the canal, five miles south of this city, blew up this afternoon with a series of terrific explosions .-The works, which consisted of ten or twelve buildings, were demolished, large fragments of timber and heavy machinery being thrown a considerable distance. There were eight or ten men at work in and about the mills at the time of the explosion, three of whom were killed, the others escaping with a few slight bruises. The two magazines, in which is stored a large quantity of powder, are situated about forty and eighty rods from the nearest mill, and did not explode, although the roof and wall of the nearest one was badly torn by the concussion.

The cause of the explosion will probably never be known, as the man at the coining mill, where the first explosion occurred, was killed In the immediate neighborhood of the explosion houses were badly damaged, windows being broken and plastering torn off The damage in the city is estimated at from $25,000 to $80,000.
